Dr Louise McCall

Dr Louise McCall is a nationally recognised specialist in health and medical professional education and accreditation with more than three decades as an academic, senior executive, industry advisor and assessor.

She is the current Chair of the Medical Radiation Practice Accreditation committee and the deputy Chair of the Chinese Medicine Accreditation committee and a member of the Council on Chiropractic Education Australasia Accreditation committee.

Louise has worked in senior management roles at organisations as diverse as No To Violence, Kalyna Care Aged Care, St Basil's Aged Care Victoria, The Australasian College for Emergency Medicine, the Royal Australasian College of Medical Administrators, Monash University, one of the Australia's leading research and teaching institutions, Health Education Australia Limited, a 100-year-old training provider.

She is an Adjunct Associate Professor at Monash University's Faculty of Medicine, Nursing and Health Sciences, an Associate Fellow of the Australasian College of Health Services Management

Louise holds a PhD and a Graduate Diploma in Clinical Epidemiology from Monash University, a Bachelor of Arts, (Majors in Economics and Business Administration) Swinburne University of Technology and a TAE40116 Certificate IV (Workplace Training and Assessment). She is also a Graduate of the Australian Institute of Company Directors.

Louise is committed to quality education, rigorous health profession's accreditation and keeping the public safe.

January 2026